State Patrolman Injured In Crash

A State Highway Patrolman from Warren was treated at Salem City Hospital for injuries received when the cruiser he was driving crashed into a cement block wall and a tree on N. Ellsworth Ave. at 7:20 p.m. Wednesday after another car pulled in front of him. The damaged Patrol car is pictured (above) at the scene.

Ptl. John J. Dunlosky, 24, of 2116 N. River Rd., Warren, was treated for a broken rib and bruises of the left leg and shoulder. He was released from the hospital after treatment.

According to Salem police, Dunlosky was driving north on Ellsworth Ave. when a southbound car operated by Paul F. Hannay of 350 W. 8th St., made a left turn onto E. 6th St. in front of the Patrol car.

Ptl. Dunlosky applied his brakes but the cruiser skidded on the wet pavement and leaves. The cruiser went left of center and narrowly missed striking a car driven by Edward W. Szymzyk of 607 Aetna St.

To avoid striking Szymzyk, the patrolman said he stepped on the gas to get back in the northbound

Gromyko Says Soviet Sincere

Reds May Consider Allies' Berlin Stand

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko says the Soviet Union is ready to consider the Western Allies' point of view on Berlin and Germany if the West is sincere in wanting an understanding with the Soviet Union.

Gromyko declared before the Soviet-Communist party congress Wednesday that Soviet foreign policy demonstrates "flexibility and its striving to take account of the interests of the other parties to negotiations when they really seek an understanding."

He gave no indication of a retreat in the Soviet position in the tense diplomatic stalemate, however, and he asserted once more that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace pact with East Germany if negotiations with the West fail.

The address marked Gromyko's first official public report on his recent talks with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York and with President Kennedy in Washington.

Gromyko was applauded repeatedly throughout the address, which appeared to be a major statement on Soviet foreign policy.

He declared that he and Rusk agreed that the two world powers should find a way to make war impossible.

"The secretary of state told me that we all understand that neither Khrushchev nor Kennedy want to go down in history as the leaders who provoked a world ca-

Liverpool Hospital Expansion Planned

EAST LIVERPOOL — Approval of a federal grant that will range between $133,000 and $150,000 assured today that a new East Liverpool osteopathic hospital will be erected at a cost of $400,000 to $450,000.

Dr. John W. Hayes, president of the hospital board of trustees, received word Wednesday night on the grant from Dr. Ralph W. Dwork, director of the state health department at Columbus.

The grant was made under the Hill-Burton Act, assuring the federal government will bear one third of the cost of the project. As soon as plans are approved by the U. S. Public Health Service office in Chicago, contractors' bids will be sought, Dr. Hayes said. The new hospital will replace a 14-year-old building.

The officers of the East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital, Inc., a non-profit Ohio corporation, include Dr. M. W. Riegel of Salem, vice president.

Reds Tighten Noose At Berlin Crossings

Quarrels Indicate Internal Crisis

Soviets May Force Albania From Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rumors are circulating in Western diplomatic quarters that the Soviet Union may force Albania out of the Communist bloc's Warsaw Pact.

These rumors are being carefully studied by U.S. and other Allied officials and suggest the possibility that the Communist camp is grappling with its worst internal crisis since 1948.

In its quarrel with Moscow, which broke wide open at the current Communist party meeting in the Soviet capital, Albania has the support of Red China. The struggle between the Soviet Union and Red China presumably has been intensified by the Soviet-Albanian dispute.

Albania, in itself, is relatively insignificant. But as a pawn in the struggle between Moscow and Peiping it could be critically important.

Authorities here are uncertain what the Chinese Communist leaders will do if Soviet Premier Khrushchev decides to expel Albania from the Warsaw Pact. But they think it possible that Khrushchev feels the time has come for a showdown with the Red Chinese.

Washington authorities doubt that the intensified strain between Moscow and Peiping will have any decisive influence on Khrushchev's strategy in dealing with the Western powers over the Berlin crisis. But they do not rule out the theoretical possibility that the dissension within Communist ranks might cause Khrushchev to go more slowly toward a showdown with the West.

The Soviet premier told the Moscow party congress last week that he would not insist on signing a separate peace treaty with East Germany before the end of the year. He linked this to a statement that the Western powers had displayed a "certain understanding" of the Berlin problem, indicating that it might be possible to arrive at a negotiated settlement.

Khrushchev's speech in this respect, and, indeed, its dominant tone, is regarded by officials here as having been reasonably restrained. The restraint on Berlin, however, was offset to some degree by his announcement of plans to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb and by the emphasis placed by other speakers at the congress on Soviet military prowess.

Among all the developments at the Communist session, U.S. officials are obviously most deeply intrigued by the extent and future implications of trouble within the Communist bloc. The row between the Soviet Union and Red China is an old story going back several years. But the rumor of an outright break between Moscow and a European Communist coun-

RUSSIAN TELLS OFF U.N. — Soviet's Semyon Tsarapkin lost his temper, wrung his hands and pounded the table repeatedly in his speech during debate over move by the U.N. General Assembly for a "solemn appeal" against U.S.S.R.'s planned 50-megaton nuclear explosion.

Hope For Quick Assembly Action

UN Wins Approval To Seek Bomb Ban

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Bolstered by a thumping 75-10 vote of approval from the U.N. political committee, delegates pressed today for quick General Assembly action on an appeal to the Soviet Union to refrain from exploding a 50-megaton hydrogen bomb.

Denmark, one of the eight sponsors of the appeal, asked that the General Assembly give top priority to the resolution which cleared the committee after a stormy day of Soviet opposition.

Only the nine-nation Soviet bloc and Cuba voted against the appeal. Mali abstained and 15 nations—10 of them from Africa—were absent when the balloting took place.

As support for the resolution mounted, the Soviet Union and its allies finally abandoned attempts to stall off the committee vote. But Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin indicated the Kremlin would reject the appeal, asserting maneuvers by the NATO nations would not deter the Soviet Union from perfecting its defenses.

Tsarapkin charged that in the past the United States had conducted tests of 15, 20 "and perhaps even 30-megaton bombs." He asserted that the nations who backed the resolution calling on the Soviet Union not to drop the monster bomb had kept silent during U.S. tests in the atmosphere.

The resolution was sponsored by Canada, Denmark, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Norway, Pakistan and Sweden.

During the debate, delegates appealed to Moscow not to touch off the giant bomb Soviet Premier Khrushchev said last week probably would be exploded by Oct. 31.

U.S. Military Chief In City Asks New Washington Policy

BULLETIN

BERLIN (AP)—The East German police declared the Friedrichstrasse border crossing closed today after a new entry into East Berlin by U.S. Army jeeps reasserting the right of Americans to enter the East sector.

BERLIN (AP) — Three U.S. Army jeeps, loaded with American military police with fixed bayonets, rolled into Communist East Berlin today in a new display of allied determination to preserve Western rights in Berlin.

It was the second day in a row that armed forces of the U.S. garrison in Berlin had crossed into Communist territory to uphold Western rights, originating from the occupation of the former German capital.

The jeeps went across as an escort for an American in civilian clothes. Driving a U.S. Army-licensed car, he had earlier been refused admission to East Berlin.

The American maneuver was successful.

The three jeeps went into East Berlin past the East German police, who made no attempt to stop the convoy.

When the civilian car was 300 yards inside East Berlin, the jeeps turned and came back to West Berlin. The civilian and his blue sedan continued on into East Berlin.

During the morning several other official U.S. Army staff sedans had passed in and out of the East sector without a hitch.

But a French car bearing official number plates turned back rather than submit to an identity

Salesbook Co. Case To Be Heard Friday

LISBON — A hearing on motions to quash indictments against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. and its officers will be held Friday at 10 a.m. before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Defense counsel W. B. Moore Jr. of Lisbon filed the motions on Oct. 9 on behalf of the firm; Martin Sufrin, president; Isadore Sufrin, vice president; Joseph Sufrin, secretary-treasurer, and Michael Schildmeier, manager.

The officers, all of Pittsburgh, were indicted by the grand jury on a charge of printing "numbers" books, but the defendants asked the court to dismiss the indictments "by reason of a defect apparent upon the face of the record in that the action or conduct of which the defendants are accused does not constitute a violation of any statute of the state of Ohio."

The indictments were the first returned under a new state anti-gambling law which became effective Sept. 1. Atty. General Mark McElroy personally led a raid on the local plant Sept. 5. His assistant, Atty. John Gleason of Cleveland, who accompanied him on the raid, is assisting in prosecution of the case, upon appointment by Judge Sharp.

One Lucky Woman

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"A woman behind closed doors is one of the most tragic things in the world," said Olive Clapper.

"I know widows who have lived for years behind locked doors. Their trouble is that they refuse to give to life. They just sit and nurse their sorrow. It's the easiest thing in the world to do. But it is destructive to a woman in every way—it can destroy her health, her personality, her very life."

"Mrs. Clapper's own world fell apart Feb. 3, 1944, when her husband, Raymond Clapper, the political columnist, was killed in a plane crash while on a wartime mission in the Pacific theater.

She tells the story of her happy marriage—and how she built a new life of service after her husband's death—in a warm-hearted and inspiring book, "One Lucky Woman."

Since most wives today outlive their husbands, Mrs. Clapper believes they should face up realistically to the prospect of widowhood.

Here are some of her suggestions:

"1. Keep up any skills you have—just in case. A woman who was a secretary should keep a typewriter around—and use it. If she was a nurse before marriage, she should continue doing voluntary nursing.

"2. Even if a widow has no occupational skills, I'd advise her to find some kind of work outside the home—even if she doesn't need the money.

"Work is the great consolator. Get out among people and don't hide yourself in sorrow.

"3. Many women, after a period of widowhood, hope to remarry. But since men are dying faster than women, the chances of a woman finding a second helpmate are meager. It is better for her to face up to this—and adjust to the prospect of a single life.

"4. Don't impose yourself on your children, or try to run their lives—or the lives of your grandchildren."

Mrs. Clapper, attractive and happy at 65, has lived up to her own creed.

"I never had any resentment or bitterness over Ray's death," she recalled. "He died as he would have wanted to—and I feel he went out in glory."

His editors suggested that she carry on his column. Mrs. Clapper felt this task was beyond her powers, but she had had experience speaking before women's clubs and she filled her late husband's lecture engagements.

In the years since then she has busied herself writing and speaking and serving as an executive of CARE. Last spring, President Kennedy appointed her co-chairman of the American Food for Peace Council.

A career of service has widened her horizons, left her no time for useless mourning.

Looking back across a crowded lifetime, Mrs. Clapper repeated the lines with which she closed her book:

"I'm convinced that love, real love, never dies. It follows the beloved forever."

She feels she has, indeed, been one lucky woman.

The Answer to—

WHY Salem Needs THE CHARTER

A municipality which does not have its own "constitution" or Charter remains a CREATURE OF THE STATE and is governed entirely by state laws and regulations.

This was satisfactory as long as Ohio remained a rural and agricultural state. But today Ohio is a complex and widely diversified state containing many small villages and numerous large cities. Local problems of all communities will vary greatly.

Consequently it has become more and more difficult for the State Legislature to pass laws to accommodate all local conditions. In 1912 the people of Ohio anticipated this and amended the Ohio Constitution providing that: "any municipality may exercise all powers of local self government" by adopting their own constitution or Charter.

Over half of the cities of Ohio have taken advantage of this RIGHT TO GOVERN THEMSELVES and have adopted their own charters.

Salem can best be prepared to meet the challenges of the future, by adopting our own Charter - NOW ! ! !

It's Only Taxpayers' Money

When Fire Chief Clarence Wright attended the convention of the International Fire Chiefs Association in Las Vegas, Nev., Sept. 24-28, it cost Salem taxpayers roughly $600.

Although City Auditor Helen Coyne refuses to make public an itemized statement of the expenses, the trip had the sanction of Safety Director Richard McConner and City Council has just appropriated an extra $250 to put with the $250 customarily set aside for the chief so that he may attend meetings during the year. An equal amount is allocated annually for Police Chief Martin Lutsch. He attended the Ohio Police Chiefs convention last week in Cleveland.

The extra $250 for Chief Wright was transferred by Council from the "special firemen fund" to the "fire department conference fund" so that he might be reimbursed for his Las Vegas jaunt, with approximately $300 going for travel expenses, at eight cents a mile.

We have no quarrel with our good fire chief attending meetings but we maintain that the safety, director and City Council should exercise more control. If attendance at conventions in distant points is requested, it should be denied or perhaps an agreement reached on a sharing of expenses, unless the city treasury is over-flowing, which it isn't!

Only Councilman Donald Cannon had the courage to vote "no" on the ordinance transferring the extra $250. President of Council Michael Schuller said he would have opposed it but he is called on only in the event of a tie vote.

We Knew They Were Coming

United States Travel Service, the federal agency that has been set up to bring tourists to this country, has had a trial run—two groups of Swiss sightseers. They were impressed, according to newspaper interviews when they were in New York City, but not always favorably.

Food prices were high, streets were dirty, hotels were impersonal, noise was oppressive and buildings were colorless; these were samples of their comments. To be sure, the skyscrapers scraped the sky, auto traffic was incredible, people were friendly and the sum total of their experience in New York was staggering, as it will be when they visit Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Washington, their other scheduled ports of call.

But nothing could be more certain than that Americans are unprepared for tourists in their midst.

If U.S. Travel Service is successful, any one of us one day soon could be accosted by a tourist asking for information about currency, local conditions, our native costumes, living conditions, food specialties of the region etc. Chances are, the inquiry would be made in roughly approximate English. And chances are that it would be muffed, unless we had been made aware in advance that the inquirer was a tourist.

If things do turn out badly, we'll have no excuse. We knew they were coming and we baked no cake. They'll be sizing us up as critically as we've been sizing them up for decades when we were the tourists and they were the natives. We know they will go back home and report their impressions of the United States to others and that they will bear down just as hard on our flaws as we've always borne down on theirs.

Dirty streets, outrageous prices, too much noise, drab buildings. . .

Interesting place to visit but they wouldn't want to live here. . .

This is going to be hard to bear.

Peripheral Gadget Graveyard

With due respect to our scientists, an ingenious and wildly imaginative collection of try-anything-once pioneers, outer space is being peppered with every gadget spawned in their fertile imaginations.

We do not refer specifically to the 350 million copper needles they lobbed into orbit late last week, on the theory that these objects whizzing through space 2,000 feet high in a belt from 5 to 25 miles wide would be useful in radio transmission.

We refer generally to the stuff they are putting into orbit because governments have cornered vast amounts of wealth to expand in pursuit of everything with a scientific label attached to it. Woe to anyone who voices a doubt.

The supposition is that the scientific game is worth all the candles that it costs. Even were it not for the crushing compulsion of scientific rivalry between nations, there would still be a thundering credo that he who questions science is a spoilsport and probably a subversive.

Rumors say that even in the Soviet Union, where dissenters are silenced permanently if they dissent too much, there are Russians who wonder about a government that stas abreast of all possibilities of lobbing hardware into outer space but lags behind possibilities of filling the bellies of its constituents.

Perhaps 350 million needles in orbit around the tattered old earth will help it mend its ways. It may take 350 billion needles, and if it does we'll put 'em up there, along with satellites, rocket casings, radioactive particles, the corpses of animals that never had a chance to discuss their going and, ultimately, the corpses of humans who did talk it over and decided to take a chance, anyway.

Out of so much stuff some good must come, because Science has a reason for everything it does, it says, even if it's only to play out the error portion of the trial-and-error equation. This time it was needles. The next time it may be pins. A year from now it may be crochet hooks.

Cooperative Effort

Things are looking better than ever for the city's W. State St. overpass project.

The federal government's indication yesterday that work could start by next July runs contrarywise to normal procedure on works projects which seem to take years to talk up, let alone get plans drawn.

If the $1 million grade separation improvement does begin next summer it will be the result of close cooperation between City Council, Mayor Dean Crammer, the State Highway Department, Congressman Wayne L. Hays and the Federal Housing and Home Agency.

Halloween Time

Some Halloweeners are out on good missions. Others are bent on vandalism.

The Junior High School pupils who will canvass the community Monday afternoon and evening for UNICEF will be soliciting funds to send food and medicine to impoverished children in foreign lands where the United Nations is able to assist.

How much better is the UNICEF youngster's Halloween canvassing than the so-called pranksters who commit dangerous acts of vandalism, like the ear of corn thrown through a truck windshield on Rt. 14 Tuesday night, which hospitalized the driver. Parents should know what their sons are doing at night, especially at Halloween time.

Once Over

How about a reply by Uncle Sam to boastful prophecies of Khrushchev in his 20-year-plan?

Listen Nikita: Your 20-year goals have been read and duly noted. In reply let me say I will concede progress by the U.S.S.R. But the U.S. will leave you at the post in all areas mentioned, and meet the following goals:

1. American gross national production of goodwill, regard for human life and a decent respect for the opinions of mankind will reach record heights. The U.S. will forever increase its output of compassion, understanding and concern for the little fellow.

2. America will specialize in turning out larger quotas of aids to the pursuit of happiness. It will concentrate on the instrumentation of fair play, rigidly kept pledges and the large economy sized idea that there are two sides to every question.

3. It will produce no masks of friendship or false faces for use in international relations and increase twofold its manufacture of shoes, none of which will be in table-thumping models.

4. America will exceed Russian production of steel mills and continue to build more churches, cathedrals, hospitals, dispensaries, laboratories, founding asylums and homes for the aged.

5. Its goal is a hundredfold increase in the creation of peaceful firesides, happy homes, bedside prayers and human brotherhood.

6. U.S. doctors and scientists will triple production of medicines to wipe out dread diseases of history and rid children of crippling scourges.

7. The U.S.A. will attain higher goals than ever in the production of high regard for the Bill of Rights, Declaration of Independence, Sermon On the Mount and the pledged word that will not break, bend or warp.

8. It will treble its output of searchlights to expose evil in dark places and lamps to illuminate the path of bewildered man through dismal alleys.

TV HAS A SERIES for women on "What's Wrong With Men." (Somebody complaining?)

Bashir, the camel driver, took a ride in N.Y. subway. He may not put advertising signs on sides of camels.

Although he can't read or write and has had no schooling, Bashir freely delivered lines worthy of the classics. Causing one Broadwayite to exclaim "Aw, he must have writers."

Bob Moses, Mayor Wagner, Senator Bush and Newbold Morris, all Hale grads, sang the Whiffenpoof song at dedication of new housing named after late Senator Taft. ("Round the projects, far from Mory's, where the excavators dig.")

George B. Chadwick, who died in the little town of Lyme, Connecticut, the other day at 81 could pass down the street without attracting passing notice, but there was a day when he was famed throughout the nation as one of the greatest football stars in history. He was spectacular Yale football player for four years, 1899 through 1902, playing with such wondermen of the gridiron as Tom Shevlin, Jim Hogan, Charlie Rafferty, Ralph Bloomer, Gordon Brown, Perry Hale, Foster Rockwell, Ed Glass and Al Sharpe. He captained the 1900 team.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

If Fidel Castro is not the enemy, there is no point to this report. If Cuba's Communist-controlled government is the enemy—then what is Harry Bridges, leader of strategically placed Pacific longshoremen and warehouse workers, doing packing his bags and asking the State Department for permission to attend important conferences in Havana in the next two weeks. I ask this question and submit this report in the hope that Jimmie Hoffa will sit still and remain quiet long enough to hear the answers—if any—from Mr. Bridges.

Mr. Hoffa, who has eschewed and chewed out Communists, also has proudly hailed his "solidarity" with Bridges and the West Coast union. While Jimmie H. was doing his denunciation bit, the Communist-controlled Cuban Federation of Labor dispatched a letter to Bridges' headquarters in San Francisco.

This well-guarded epistle was an invitation. It requested the pleasure of the company of delegates from the Pacific longshoremen— and warehousemen, too—at the convention of the Cuban Labor Confederation opening in Havana on Nov. 11.

BRIDGES HAS GALL, will travel. The union's executive board officially chose him to head such a delegation to a convention whose resolutions will rip our country up and down its back.

This Cuban Confederation documents prove, actually is the counterpart of the labor movements of the Fascists of Il Duce, the Labor Front of the Third Reich and the Soviets' supreme Union Council. The old Cuban movement has been wiped out. Late this summer it was replaced by a network of 25 federations which include and regiment all professionals as well as manual workers.

Throughout this month the Communist government there has been screening activists and naming them "leaders" of the new labor front units.

This process of "democratic centralism" will be finished by the first of November. Then they will have a convention to legitimize the offspring. That's where Bridges wants to be.

AND IF AFTER ALL this Mr. Hoffa still is humming solidarity forever, I would tell him that Mr. Bridges is not a one-continent man.

I have just received from a contact in Prague a copy of the full decisions of something called the "Second All-Pacific and Asian Dock Workers' Conference." This was organized with the help of Bridges' colleagues and union in Tokyo last June.

The permanent liaison between the organization launched by that "conference" and Bridges' San Francisco headquarters is a Japanese chap known as "Pop." The rest of his identity is the property of several intelligence services. But "Pop" is there, take my word.

"Pop" will swing into action when the conference decision to call on "all dockers to refuse to load or unload nuclear devices and to refuse to work on ships that sail through contaminated areas" is implemented.

The word "contaminated" is fascinating since the United States now is readying the Eniwetok Island base for nuclear testing. Just who is to decide what is contaminated? Obviously the "conference" leaders—including some of Bridges' colleagues will help make these decisions.

NOR WILL THIS be merely a verbal exercise. The resolution, I want to point out to Jimmie Hoffa, contains the following:

"We have a strong weapon," says the document, "in that we are working for the ships which come in and go out of the ports along the Pacific Ocean. Therefore, while consolidating our friendly ties we can and must organize joint action and carry it out for the winning of our demands."

Now, that Pacific is a big drink of water—and it leads to oceans near South Viet Nam and Laos. I call this to Hoffa's attention because Bridges did not when they sat together in Portland, Ore., on Oct. 11.

That day, Hoffa's Teamsters and Bridges' longshoremen's union made a pact, the import of which is not generally known. That pact will place the Western Teamsters and Bridges' followers, who work the warehouses, under a single master contract.

What if Bridges' union one of these days makes good its loyalty to the Tokyo conference and agrees not to work certain warehouses, docks and ships? What if Bridges' friends in Cuba call on the world to turn against us?

What price "solidarity," Mr. Hoffa?

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: The wet noodle won't do this time. I will take, instead, 20 belts with a full mail bag.

It is indeed possible to retrieve a letter once it has been mailed. Hundreds of readers have told me so. It hardly seems worth the effort, but it can be done, and here's how:

If the letter is registered you must go to the post office and fill out withdrawal form 3855. If the letter is not registered, form 1509 will do.

You must state on the form the approximate size of the envelope, the hour and date it was mailed, where you deposited it, and why you want it back. You also must agree to pay for any and all expenses incurred in retrieving the letter.

Thank you, dear readers, for letting me know. I feel as if I've landed in the Dead Letter Office.

A Bride's Choice

Dear Ann: I married Lloyd with my eyes wide open. I could have had a go-getter and a good earner. But I preferred a good looking and a smooth dancer. I've had to work from the day we married.

I love to dance with Lloyd but I never get the chance. What happened at a recent company party is a good example. The girls married to the substantial types come over and say: "Do you mind if I borrow your husband? Mine can't dance."

I feel like answering: "My husband isn't much at working. May I borrow $5 from your husband?" When I complain to Lloyd he is just flattered. What can I do? —JEAN.

Dear Jean: A company party is the last place a woman should expect to dance with her own husband. Especially if he's good.

Plan on dinner out every few weeks and select a place with music. This should solve at least one of your problems.

One Mother's Story

Dear Ann: I just read Darlene's letter about her mother reminding her to do little things and how she resented it bitterly. I have two teen-age daughters and I know how they hate to be reminded. But this is what happens unless I ride herd on them.

They put the ice tray back in the refrigerator with no water in it. They pull out the pug but they don't wash the bathtub. Their soiled clothes go in the drawers instead of the clothes hamper.

The towels are bunched up on the racks instead of being spread out to dry. They forget to take the dog out at night and she has an accident on the rug.

Speaking as a mother with two daughters who must be reminded, I say it's the only way. Otherwise they wouldn't do one blamed thing.

What do you have to say to this, Ann Landers:—A MOTHER, TOO.

Dear Mother: Teen-age girls who must be reminded to put water in the ice tray and to wash out the bathtub have had pretty shoddy training.

When a mother must repeat such simple instructions hundreds of times it is evidence that her voice has become like the bus that runs by the house. They've become so used to it, they don't even hear it any more.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Why Do We Worry?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Irresponsible Actions Hurting U.S. Economy

President Kennedy is well-aware that businessmen are worried about the attitude of his administration toward business. So is his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, whose activities in the antitrust field have caused shivers of apprehension in the business community. Indeed, one economist said to this writer the other day that all the good effects of speeches of reassurance by the President and secretary of the treasury could be wiped out in 30 minutes by the address which the attorney general is scheduled to deliver in New York City before the Economic Club on Monday, Nov. 13.

This presumes that Robert Kennedy is antibusiness. He is, on the contrary, much too good a politician to forget that if business is bad in 1964 the administration will be defeated.

So it gets back to fundamentals. What is really making businessmen worry? What are the basic causes of concern today about the outlook for business, and what is the administration going to do about these vital factors?

First of all, businessmen are being told by some statisticians that corporate profits in the early part of next year will be unprecedentedly large and yet that, in the second half, there may be a downturn. Why should America be subject to wide fluctuations that bring on recessions and reverses while billions of dollars of potential income are lost and unemployment rises?

The simple answer is that the whole economy is suffering from irresponsible actions by economic groups.

NOBODY WANTS to see competition stifled by monopolistic practices of business or by violations of the antitrust laws. But what shall be said of a situation in which a labor-union monopoly fix prices by fixing costs, and why is there no law on the statute books dealing with it?

What of the power of labor unions to inflict damage amounting to billions of dollars on the national economy by means of a steel strike, as happened in 1959?

The American people are not aware of the damage being done to them currently by strikes or by threats that are equivalent to strikes in forcing wage costs upward.

Much is said about price stability, but hardly anything is said about cost stability. Yet without cost stability, there can be no stability in the price level.

The tendency in some quarters is to look at profits as a sort of social evil. Labor-union politicians insist that they must have a big share of these profits, but they refuse to bear any share of the losses.

As a consequence of this inequitable situation, businessmen cannot very well plan ahead. They are reluctant, for instance, to buy new plant and new equipment to replace wornout or obsolete machinery.

Planning is difficult enough anyway, but it becomes even more so when there is so much talk about "fallout" shelters and nuclear war. Who wants to float a loan or take on any big commitment for expansion when people are discussing the possible destruction of humanity? Yet America's power to deter a nuclear war is sadly underestimated.

PSYCHOLOGICAL factors are closely related to national confidence. An administration that harasses business and refuses to regulate labor practice that are monopolistic tends to weaken the confidence of the very men who should be planning and creating new businesses or the expansion of existing enterprises.

Just to write letters to labor leader telling them to be moderate in their demands for higher wages doesn't do much good. For, although the President did this recently in his letter to David McDonald, head of the Steelworkers' Union, the unions paid little attention to the correspondence.

There is already talk among businessmen about buying steel to prepare for the steel strike expected next June. This means a lopsided economy again—a panicky buying mood and then a period of abstinence in the market, while steel production drops precipitately.

Such fluctuations have a far-reaching effect on the whole economy. It is precisely this fundamental weakness which no administration, Republican or Democratic, has been able to cure.

America is suffering from the conflicting demands of class groups. If there are not enough laws on the statute books to deal with the problem, Congress should be prodded to enact them.

Competition with Europe is getting tough. Many American products are being priced out of the international market because of the high prices that have to be charged to meet labor costs that go up every year or two in the United States without any restraint whatsoever.

These fundamentals are being ignored. This is why businessmen are worried.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: We already had held our sides over the clipping about the Puerto Rican kids in New York City being taught Latin although they have not learned to speak English. Knowing your feelings about Latin we figured we'd hear from you soon.

But what really tickled us about this situation is the fact it isn't peculiar to New York City's scandalously mismanaged school system. All you need to do is sashay around to the nearest local high school and you'll find kids poring over Latin who can neither speak nor write English.

It wasn't too many years ago they would have been studying Greek, which made more sense because people are still speaking the Greek language, though I doubt that it resembles what was taught to students.

All this nonsense stems from the feeling in this country that education is sufficient unto itself; that if you study anything at all your mind is thereby improved and cultivated and you are, in fact, educated.

It has some weird extensions, all right, such as the theory of osmotic culture—my own name for it. This theory claims that by being close to education enough culture will soak into a person to make the college worthwhile. This would make the college janitor the most educated man on the place, as I grant you he sometimes seems to be.

People take the theory seriously. Even if a citizen gets thrown out of school, he always lets it be known he spent a certain amount of time at old Anemic Academy. And the college curriculum is full of little backwaters and crannies where a hard-pressed student can claim credit for a semester's education listening to records or looking at paintings in picture galleries—to make him appreciate art, what else?

We are doing better day by day, just as Doc Coe thought we should try to do. But I will not buy the theory of osmotic culture. I do not believe education and culture can be rubbed on like stick cologne.

Not being a revisionist like Terrible Tito, I will not disturb any of the dogma of education, other than to suggest with all the conviction I can put into a suggestion that all students graduating from college should take the same type of tough examination for getting out that they took for getting in, if they went to one of the selective schools.

This would be a blow in the head for osmotic culture. It would get rid of the idea that you are educated because you stood close to a shelf of books or walked under the elms with a girl who thought Thomas Wolf was wonderful.

Your aunt warns me I may be striking a low blow at you when I say such a thing, but I never had any illusions about your education. I remember too much about the sweaty episodes we weathered on visits to the dean.

If ever it could be said truthfully of anyone who went to college when all educators required was a warm body and money in hand that he couldn't get his application card into the IBM machine today, it's you. You didn't even give the theory of osmotic culture a chance; you never got that close to the fountain of knowledge.

Even all that Latin didn't make any impression on you, tsk, tsk. But magna est veritas et praevalabit, eh Rover.

Regards from both of us here and hello to our fellow tribesmen.

this ain't no fairy tale!

(With Apologies to Anderson, Aesop, Grimm, etc.)

Once Upon A Time there was a store. It was a very pretty store, and all the people that worked there were happy beyond belief. In fact, they were so happy that sometimes they got carried away with their work and bought too much.

One Day this very week the boss, basically a fairly gentle fellow, said "Let's Count The Dresses." Whistling while they worked, the happy girls counted and counted. After two coffee breaks and a lengthy lunch hour they finished counting. A delegation brought the figures to the boss who paled visibly and shuddered.

"Markdown 200 Dresses", he said — his lip quivering. "But we can't", the gallant girls cried. "They're all new and very saleable. They aren't soiled or mused and most are only recent arrivals."

"Enough Of This insubordination," shouted their leader. "Mark them down — way down — from 1/3 to 1/2 off. Mark down the winter cottons, the arnel jerseys, the crepes, the wools. Mark down the juniors, the misses, and the half sizes.

"Oh No", said the unhappy girls, "you wouldn't go so far as to do that with these lovely dresses." The boss shook his fist. "Get out your red pencils and start to work," he screamed. "Not only will we mark down these dresses, but we will tell the whole world about it in The Salem News on Thursday. We'll start this sale on Friday. "So there!"

Jury Clears Man Of Manslaughter

LISBON — A verdict of "not guilty" was returned this morning in favor of Homer R. (Sonny) Williams of Chester, W. Va., who was charged with first degree manslaughter in the death of Wilbert Willard Jr., of Tampa, Fla., last June 4 in a fight at the Green Mill restaurant, East Liverpool.

The jury of nine women and three men returned the verdict after deliberating one and one-half hours.

The trial began Monday morning.

The embezzlement case against Glen Richie of Salem, who was indicted for taking $3,175 from the Eagles Lodge in Salem, will begin Monday before Common Pleas Judge Sharp.

Barn Near Lisbon Destroyed By Fire

Thirty-nine head of dairy cattle were saved but some 9,000 bales of hay and more than 1,000 bushels of oats were destroyed in a fire of undetermined origin at the farm of Willie Strader on Route 30, south of Lisbon near Apples corners.

Firemen said spontaneous combustion may have touched off the blaze which was discovered by Strader, vocational agriculture teacher at Beaver Local High School, about 1:30 a.m.

Firemen concentrated on saving the farm home and other buildings. A small milking barn and a wooden structure were saved but a corn crib was damaged badly.

CASE IS CONTINUED

Samuel E. Dunkel, 66, of 520 W. School St., pleaded "not guilty" in Mayor Dean Cranmer's court today to a charge of reckless operation which stemmed from a two-car accident on N. Lincoln Ave. near the post office Oct. 19. A continuance of the case was granted at the request of Dunkel's attorney. The delay was asked after the charge against the defendant was changed from failure to yield the right of way to reckless operation.

check. In it were a driver in civilian clothes and a man in a blue French army uniform.

A British military car with civilian and military occupants passed through without trouble.

The Allies appeared to be trying out various combinations of passengers to test out East Berlin police reactions. Why the British car carrying civilians was waved through without a challenge while the Americans and French ran into difficulties was not clear.

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. military commander in the divided city Wednesday night asked Washington for new instructions after his Soviet counterpart insisted the Allies would have to recognize the Communist East German regime as the controlling power in East Berlin.

The Soviet commandant in East Berlin, Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, rejected a personal protest by Watson Wednesday against East German police demanding identity papers of Allied civilian personnel entering East Berlin.

Solovyev insisted that the East German regime is in control of access to East Berlin and its regulations are binding. Watson replied that the consequences of this position "were potentially so serious" that he was putting the issue up to Washington "on a most urgent basis."

In Washington, Joseph Reap, State Department spokesman, said the U.S. government regarded Solovyev's rejection of Watson's protest "as a serious development." Reap said the United States is taking up the matter urgently with the governments involved—Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

In an attempt to avoid further incidents as the issue approached a showdown on upper diplomatic levels, the U.S. mission announced that "American officials" not in uniform and their dependents are being asked for the time being not to enter the Soviet sector.

tastrophe in the second half of the 20th Century," Gromyko said.

"I replied that if we can succeed in solving on a basis acceptable to both of our governments the questions concerning the liquidation of the remnants of the Second World War, this will be a great contribution to peace."

"We think Kennedy and Khrushchev must be the presidents in a period in which war becomes impossible, that is to say at a decisive turning point in history. The whole world would be grateful to Kennedy and Khrushchev for that," Gromyko said.

The foreign minister reiterated the Soviet government's adherence to a policy of peaceful coexistence with capitalist nations and added: "The victory between communism and capitalism will be decided by history and not by the Kremlin."

lane. He successfully got back in the right hand but the cruiser continued to skid and jumped over the curb.

The cruiser struck a cement block wall owned by William Juergens at 632 N. Ellsworth Ave., then hit the tree roadside.

Slippery streets were also a factor in a minor two-car accident at the intersection of S. Lincoln Ave. and Franklin St. at 7:23 p.m. Wednesday.

Police said Anna M. Pfiller, 61, of 951 Jones Drive was attempting to make a left turn when another auto, operated by Shirley Norwood, 17, of RD 5, Salem, was unable to get stopped and skidded into her car.

THEFTS ARE REPORTED

Holland Cameron, supervisor of the Salem Trade Extension School, reported to police Wednesday that two slide rules, valued at $20 each, were stolen from lockers at the Senior High School sometime between 2:30 and 4 p.m. Oct. 18. Cameron also told police Wednesday that a topcoat of his, valued at $44.75, was taken from the Memorial Building during the noon hour on Oct. 25.

School Consolidation Hearing Is Planned

LISBON — The hearing of the lawsuit over the consolidation of Franklin Local School District, which was continued from last Friday, resumed this afternoon.

The hearing was originally set for continuance on Nov. 6. Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard said he didn't think that he would rule on the case at the conclusion of the hearing until he has had time to go over the case thoroughly.

SPEAK AT E. PALESTINE

EAST PALESTINE — Walter A. Hunston, Columbiana County commissioner and Mrs. John Bauknecht were the primary speakers when the Republican Women's Club met Wednesday night at City Hall.

Hunston urged support of two county tax levies at the Nov. 7 ballot. One is for eight-tenths of a mill for general operating expenses and the other for seven-tenths of a mill for the county home.

Mrs. Bauknecht chose as her topic "History in the Making" and touched on the present Berlin situation. She called the wall dividing East and West Berlin "a costly possession of the Western Allies."

the initial, quickly procured reports.

These first bits of information came from seismicographic stations from highly sensitive microbracograph instruments which detect abrupt changes in air pressure, even at ranges of hundreds of miles — and possibly from such sources as submarine detection and observation.

For obvious security reasons, the military never discusses the location of particular ships at particular times. However, U.S. Navy atomic submarines roam to far distant places.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev had included the approximate date—the end of this month—in proclaiming last week his intention to test a 50-megaton bomb. The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission possibly was in the 50-megaton range but more likely was about 30 megatons.

Given Khrushchev's advance notice that a big explosion was planned, and with the knowledge location of several earlier tests in the Soviet series, it is likely the United States made arrangements to procure all possible information on the blast.

Some of the Navy's atomic submarines, including the huge Triton, could be especially useful on a mission to obtain data on such an explosion.

The Triton carries elaborate radar equipment as well as ultra modern underwater listening gear. The super-sensitive ears of a submarine's sonar system can detect shock waves as well as normal sounds. And radar can pick up a cloud formation at distances upward of 200 miles.

Even without radar, a submarine could make valuable contribution to data-gathering. One would be data on shock wave transmitted through the water, another on the exact time of detonation.

The precise time of detonation is of major importance in analysis. Certain elements produced in or released by the fusion and fission processes delay over periods ranging from split-seconds to hours, days and weeks.

The microscopic particles taken by high flying planes undergo minute studies in laboratories. The U.S. Air Force has used U2 jets in various parts of the world to take air samples up to as much as 80,000 feet altitude.

U.N.

finally approved U.N. membership for Communist Outer Mongolia and Mauritania, breaking a deadlock that had imperiled Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

The Nationalists had threatened to veto Outer Mongolia and the Soviet Union to veto Mauritania, but both lifted their threats. The applications of the two countries were sent on to the General Assembly, which is certain to admit them as the 102nd and 103rd members of the world body.

The deal admitting the two small nations was concluded after weeks of maneuvering, during which the Kennedy administration advised Chiang Kai-shek's regime that a repetition of its 1955 veto against Outer Mongolia might cause a number of U.N. members to favor Nationalist China's replacement in the U.N. by the Chinese Communists.

Funds Will Keep Department Operating Washingtonville Firemen Counting On Levy Passage

the three tax levies citizens of Washingtonville are being asked to consider at the Nov. 7 general election is an additional two-mill fire protection levy for five years.

Since the levy was allowed to lapse in 1959, the department has been without money to maintain its equipment for nearly two years.

Village council has had its hands full with other community improvements, so no money from this source has been made available for fire equipment.

Fire Chief George Boston says that a 2½-inch hose, which costs about $2 per foot, is wearing out; some of the men do not have the protective clothing they need to fight fires; and first aid equipment is in need of attention.

THE FIRE CHIEF also says that something will have to be done soon about a 300-gallon water tank on the town's 1949 pumper. The tank already has been welded twice.

In support of their appeal for the two-mill levy, firemen point to what previous improvements in the department have done to reduce local fire insurance rates. Since the department was organized in 1946, local fire insurance rates have been reduced 62½ per cent and the village currently has a Class 4 rating. Before 1946 the village had a Class 9 rating. The only equipment the village had to fight fires before the department was formed was a 1939 Ford truck outfitted with chemical tanks and a three horsepower siren mounted on the village hall. Construction of a municipal water system in 1947 was the department's first big boost. At about that same time the community made its first investment in 500 feet of 2½-inch hose.

EAST GOES WEST — Miss Fawziah Essequira demonstrates that although Moroccan women cling to the veil and the coverall djellaba, they do adopt some western ways. Here, she commutes to Casablanca on her new motor scooter.

In November, 1948, residents approved a tax levy for the purchase of a fire truck. This first official piece of equipment was delivered in 1949, fully equipped.

Other equipment has been added over the years, but nothing has been spent in 1960 or 1961 to keep the equipment in shape.

Approval of the two-mill fire protection levy by the voters on Nov. 7 would make funds available to replace worn out equipment as well as to maintain that which is still usable.

OUT OF PROCEEDS of carnivals, street fairs and, more lately, fish fries, the people of Washingtonville have been raising, almost with their own hands, a new station to house their fire equipment.

Nearly $10,000 already has been invested in the attractive block building which will replace the old fire house. Another $2,000 or $3,000 is still needed before the new station is completed.

Two other tax levies up for consideration by Washingtonville voters Nov. 7 are a two-mill village operating expense levy for five years and a one-mill street lighting levy, also for five years.

Adult Education At Leetonia Progresses

LEETONIA — The Adult Evening Educational Program being offered at Leetonia High School is in full swing, according to George N. Yoder, school coordinator.

The current classes and the instructors are: Arts and Crafts, Ronald Todd; blueprint reading, George A. Grappo; Bookkeeping I, Miss Ann Topie; Shorthand I, Mrs. Shirley Firestone; and Typing I, Miss Carol Debnar.

Much interest has been shown on the part of the 64 enthusiastic students enrolled in the courses, Yoder said. Many of the adult students are taking specific courses for the first time, while some are taking refresher courses.

The total program enrollment includes adult students from Salem, Washingtonville, Leetonia, North Lima, Rogers, Lisbon and East Palestine.

An expanded program is anticipated for the second semester which will start Jan. 8 and continue through April 20, 1962.

Some of the course offerings which have been tentatively planned are: Arts and crafts, advanced blueprint reading, machine sewing, mathematics, first aid, Spanish I, industrial supervision, Bookkeeping II, Shorthand II and Typing II.

Brochures on the program may be had by inquiring at Leetonia High School during school hours through the week.

UNNECESSARY FLU SHOTS

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Flu shots are unnecessary except in cases where a child's medical history presents a special risk — as in diabetes or lung diseases—according to the Northern Ohio Pediatric Society.

The society approved a committee report on the flu shots Wednesday. A recent rush to doctors for immunization has brought the supply of vaccine to a low point.

DISEASE CLOSES SCHOOL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County's second case of rare, dreaded spinal meningitis in two weeks has brought the closing of Grove City High School until Monday.

Preventive treatment was given 500 Grove City students after a 17-year-old girl fell critically ill and the county health commissioner confirmed it was meningitis. A 17-year-old girl from Gahanna, on the other side of Columbus, died of the disease recently.

Prof. Richard L. Howard of Columbus, Ohio, was first to use chloroform after discovery of the gas in Scotland.

There's a Porpoise in This Pleasure

It's not every young lady who has a porpoise for a playmate, but 9-year-old Debbie Turner of St. Augustine, Fla., has a real friend in "Splash," one of the star performing porpoises at Marine Studios in Marineland, Fla. Splash is a fun-loving fellow, as pictures below testify, and between shows at the theater, Debbie and the dashing dolphin cavort in the big tank.

Debbie and friend Splash grin as they tread water at Pool-side. How about a swim? Better yet, a porpoise-back ride

With a hoop slipped over his neck, Splash tows Debbie on a thrilling ride through the water at a fast 15 miles an hour.

But the fun has to end sometime. Splash isn't really trying to follow Debbie home. He's just leaning over the edge of pool to get a goodbye kiss. She'll be back for more fun.

City's Traffic Safety Program Is Commended

The annual inventory of traffic safety activities, prepared for Salem by the National Safety Council, and released this week, commends the city for progress made during 1960 in various areas of the total traffic safety program.

Strongest areas in the city's safety program are listed as traffic engineering and traffic courts. Phases listed as in most need of strengthening are safety organization, school safety education, public safety education and police traffic supervision.

Although there were no fatal accidents within the city limits in 1960, the report said that deaths of Salem residents in traffic accidents outside the city have been high in recent years.

It pointed to an average of three resident deaths per year for 1957, 1958 and 1959 (the latest figures available).

On the basis of national urban experience, the National Safety Councils involving Salem residents in and out of the city cost this community about $500,000 annually.

Included in this total are estimates of loss of earning power, medical and hospital expenses, cost of motor vehicle repair or replacement and the cost of providing automobile insurance.

Say Ex-President 'Belittles Position' Four Democrats Strike Back At Ike's Critical Comments

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the White House silent, four Senate Democrats struck back today against an attack by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on Kennedy administration fiscal policies and the Peace Corps.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Eisenhower was engaging in "campaign oratory" when he said in New York Tuesday that the administration's budget policies are "shrinking dollars" and that the Peace Corps is a "juvenile experiment."

"When the former president talked about deficits in his purely political speech," Mansfield said, "he should have been reminded that in one year during his administration the nation had the highest peacetime deficit in its history, $12.5 billion."

"I am glad he is willing to admit that the nation has attained a state of prosperity. I hope he recalls that when President Ken-

New Escape Capsule Tested On 'Hustler'

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A new escape capsule was rocketed from a B58 Hustler bomber Wednesday.

The ejection was the first aerial test in a series using life-size dummies. The goal is protection for fliers who bail out at supersonic speeds.

The Air Force Flight Test Center said the steel cocoon was shot, with two rockets, from a B58 flying 431 miles per hour at 20,000 feet. It landed eight minutes later by parachute.

Examination showed a crewman would have survived without injury, officials said.

JFK Advisors Plot Annual Economy Aims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Regular conferences of top civilian and government leaders to chart annual goals for the entire American economy soon will be proposed to President Kennedy by his labor-management advisers.

The idea is to suggest limits and guidelines in such sectors as government spending, business investment and profits and wages and prices, in the hope the recommendations will be followed to insure stability and steady growth.

The plan is to put more persuasiveness behind the "hold the line" appeals voiced by Kennedy and his recent presidential predecessors while still avoiding a controlled economy.

While everyone would remain free to make his own economic decisions, it is felt that all would be somewhat more morally bound to act responsibly within the publicly stated economic goals.

The proposal for such annual goal-setting conferences is understood to be contained in a draft report of the wage-price subcommittee of Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

It is one of several sets of recommendations due to be submitted to Kennedy when the 21-man advisory group, made up of public, business and labor representatives, meets here again late next month.

The advisory panel, headed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, has four other subcommittees readying reports for the White House on such subjects as "free and responsible collective bargaining and industrial peace," "economic growth and unemployment," "productivity and higher standards of living" and "policies to insure American products are competitive in world markets."

Dean of wild animal trainers, Clyde Beatty, was born in Bainbridge, Ross County, Ohio.

CREATE MOVIE BOARD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The city, after rejecting censorship proposals twice in recent weeks on tied Council votes, has passed an ordinance creating a movie review board.

The 15-member board will have no censorship powers but will merely survey films for possible obscenity that police may prosecute.

State Health Officers Meet To Map Nuclear Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Health officers from every state meet here today in an extraordinary session designed largely to consider protective measures that might be taken if nuclear fallout reached acute proportions.

The two-day meeting, called by the Public Health Service, brings together about 100 federal, state and local health officers. The sessions are closed to newsmen.

Dr. Francis Weber, chief of the service's radiological health division, said there was no cause now for serious concern. He added that while information still was lacking about fallout effects of the Soviet Union's big nuclear blast of last Monday, any significant hazard springing from the current Soviet test series probably would not arise until next spring.

Then, most of the fallout from all the Soviet tests, now lodged in the stratosphere, will begin to drop toward the earth.

It cannot be stated as yet, Weber said in an interview, that there would be a serious hazard even in the spring.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has announced 24 Soviet nuclear blasts—23 in the atmosphere and one under water—since Moscow resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. The AEC reported Monday's Soviet blast possibly had the punch of a 50-megaton explosion, but more likely was in the 30-megaton range.

Today's session is aimed at drafting possible protective "countermeasures," ranging even to possible condemnation of certain food supplies if that should become necessary.

"There's certainly no need to introduce any such stringent measure now," Weber said. And, he added: "I can't say whether any would ever be needed."

And he stressed that, in considering measures to protect the public from taking in with food potentially dangerous quantities of radioactive materials, every possible alternative—short of actual condemnation of food—would be studied and evaluated.

For example, he said, fresh milk unduly contaminated with radioactive iodine might be stored at low temperatures — without freezing it — until the iodine, which has a comparatively short radioactive life, lost its radiation.

Or, he said, consideration might be given to converting fresh milk to powdered form, or converting it to cheese and other dairy products so that children would still get their nutritionally valuable intake of calcium.

SALEM, OHIO

Salem Seeks Upset Over Unbeaten Boardman Friday

Locals Face Toughest Challenge Of Season

By CARL NADRASY
News Sports Editor

Ohio's 20th ranked high school football team, the powerful Boardman Spartans, will invade Reilly Stadium Friday night in what shapes up as the local Quaker gridders' toughest encounter this season.

The highly-touted Spartans, undefeated in seven contests thus far, have indicated that Friday night's fray is their "must" game of the campaign, with a win almost assuring them of an unblemished grid record for 1961.

The Boardman coaching staff, led by head mentor Jerry Thorpe, in his seventh year at the helm of the Mahoning County grid ders, count the Salem tilt so important that they have had at least two scouts at every previous Quaker battle, both at home and on the road.

"This appears to be the year Thorpe has been waiting a and building for. To put it bluntly, the Boardman squad is 'loaded.' Thorpe's starting offensive eleven will have nine seniors and two juniors, with five of the regulars back from last year's highly-impressive squad. Salem fans will remember that it took a concerted fourth quarter rally by the Quakers to win 13-8 at Boardman last season.

Coach Thorpe said he feels this will be his team's "hardest test all year." He went on to say that "if we can beat Salem, we're a pretty good ball club."

THE BOARDMAN mentor is very impressed with the way his squad has come through in all its previous contests. He concluded by saying his team is "pretty healthy" and ready and anxious to tangle with the Quakers.

The Spartans have ripped right through most of the seven opponents they've faced. Their triumphs have been registered over Austintown 28-0, Youngstown South 28-6, Brookfield 42-0, Girard 34-8, Youngstown North 50-0 and Hubbard 28-14.

If the Spartans get by Salem, their only hurdle remaining in quest of an undefeated season and the Steel Valley Conference title will be the season finale at Struthers Nov. 2.

The Boardman squad will be the heaviest team to face the Quakers thus far in the season. Among the starting offensive eleven, the Spartans will outweigh or equal Salem at all positions but two—left halfback and fullback.

Over-all, the visitors will only outweigh the locals 176 to 173 pounds per man. The gigantic Spartan line will take a distinct advantage 185½ to 176 pounds, while Salem backs are heavier 168½ to 159½ pounds.

Starting on offense at the ends for the Spartans will be seniors Stewart Dickson, 172-pounds, and Jim Huston, 165-pounds. Both are shifty, speedy and mainly the prime targets on pass plays, which have netted eight TD's via the aerial route.

AT THE TACKLES will be two more seniors, Bob Schaal, 205-pounds, and Ralph Nespeca, 207-pounds. Schaal last year played at the center position, but this year was transferred to tackle to take fuller advantage of his weight and speed.

Boardman's offensive guards will be seniors Ron Luther, 171-pounds, and Mike DeVesco, 190-pounds. Luther is another one of the veterans returning from last year's squad.

Dick Friend, a 190-pound senior, will hold down the center position.

The Spartan's backfield, although somewhat lighter than Salem's, is a highly-potent scoring threat.

Handling the T-formation quarterback duties again this year for Boardman is 176-pound junior Mike Shasby. It was Shasby, last year as a sophomore, who caused the locals all the trouble with his dazzling passing attack. Against Salem last year he completed seven of 19 passes for five first downs and his team's only touchdown.

The big gun in the running department for Boardman is senior right halfback Nick Narducci, at 169-pounds. Narducci, also returning from last year's team, is the leading rusher and has eight of the Spartan TD's thus far.

From the Salem standpoint, Friday night's game shapes up as the best opportunity for the locals to pull an upset in a 5-2 season thus far. With the tilt in the hometown stadium and with Boardman picked as such an overwhelming favorite, the Quakers could just surprise most persons and pull one of the biggest upsets in the area this year.

However, the task will be a gigantic one and the locals will have to be up very high to overcome the Spartans' power and experience.

Coach Blaine Morton will be attempting to field his strongest starting team in several contests, since it looks like injured right tackle Butch Crawford and fullback Fred Kaiser have healed enough to go full power tomorrow night. Crawford, the 202-pound stalwart on the Quaker line, has been hampered since the Ravens game with an injured right leg, and Kaiser, at 186-pounds and one of the leading scorers, has been out since the Akron Hoban tilt with a similar injury.

The other nine Salem starters appear physically sound and ranging to turn the tables on the highly-rated Spartans. The rest of the offensive lineup will be:

Seniors John Panezotti, 163-pounds, and Bob Steele, 164-pounds, at the end slots; senior Ty Enders, 196-pounds at left tackle; seniors Roger DeCrown, 163-pounds, and Bob Oswald, 160-pounds, at the guards; and George Johnston, 184-pound junior, at center.

At quarterback will be 176-pound junior Bill Beery, who leads the team in scoring with six touchdowns for 36 points. At the halves will be seniors Dave Edling, 152-pounds, and Jim Gibb, 160-pounds.

Salem has met Boardman on the gridiron five times in its long history, with the locals holding the advantage 4-1.

My predicted score for the game: Boardman 28, Salem 13.

Ferguson Holds 34-Yard Edge

OHIO STATE (AP) — All-America Bob Ferguson, bruising Ohio State fullback, is well on the way to successful defense of his Big Ten rushing championship.

The Buckeye blaster has gained 202 yards in two conference games. That's 34 yards more than the second place ball-toter, Bill Swingle of Northwestern, has picked up in three Big Ten tilts.

Ferguson has rambled 5.3 yards per carry in 38 tries. He averaged 4.9 a trip when he won the 196 crown with 560 yards in 114 attempts in league play.

George Saines, Michigan State fullback from Canton, Ohio, is No. 3 behind Ferguson and Swingle. Saines has gone 151 yards in 24 rushes, a 6.3-yard average—and that, of course, doesn't include his brilliant nonconference showing against Notre Dame last week.

Ohio State alternate quarterback John Mumme is sixth in the league with 109 yards on 20 runs.

OSU's other top QB, Bill Mrukowski, is ranked ninth in conference passing with his 7 completions in 11 attempts for 112 yards, with no interceptions.

As a team, Ohio State leads the conference in total offense (386.5 yards per game, rushing (299 yards per game; and opponents points (0).

Santo Named Top NL Soph

Cub Third Baseman Edges Cards' Sadecki

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The National League sophomore of the year refilled his visitors' coffee cups and said he believed nice guys can succeed, too.

"You hear it repeated everywhere that an athlete has to be mean to get ahead," Ron Santo said today. "I don't believe it. Determined, yes; nasty, no."

The smile Santo wore as he talked to reporters in his suburban apartment was even broader than usual. The 21-year-old third baseman of the Chicago Cubs had just learned of his selection in the annual Associated Press poll as his league's best second-year player of 1961.

A determined Santo earned the honor in his third year of professional baseball. He made the jump from Franklin High School in Seattle to the major leagues after spending only one season in the minors.

"I'm sure surprised," he admitted. "I thought Gordy Coleman would get it." (Coleman, Cincinnati Reds first baseman, placed third behind pitcher Ray Sadecki of St. Louis in the voting).

Becoming sophomore of the year was not on the list, he admitted, when he set his goals for 1961: To bat .300, hit 20 home runs and bat in 80 runs. He finished with 83 RBI and 23 homers, but his average was .284. Midway in the season he was hitting .330.

He went into a bad slump but pulled out of it with the aid of Rogers Hornsby, former batting coach of the Cubs.

West, Baylor Lead Lakers Past Pistons

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers tightened their grip on first place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division Wednesday night with a 120-116 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

It was the Pistons' home opener and the Lakers' Elgin Baylor and Jerry West gave 5,157 fans quite a show.

Baylor pumped in 36 points and West contributed 33 in boosting Los Angeles to a 3-1 record in the young season. Detroit is now 0-2 and joins St. Louis and Chicago in the division cellar.

Detroit scoring was led by Bailey Howell with 33.

All other NBA teams were idle. Action resumes tonight with two games in New York. St. Louis meets Syracuse and Cincinnati plays New York.

Booted 11 Field Goals This Year

Lou 'The Toe' Kicking As Accurate As Ever

By LARRY FRIEDMAN
CLEVELAND (AP) — "He looks more like a banker than a football player," commented Cleveland Coach Paul Brown in jest before the start of the season. "We brought him back because he adds class to the club and looks so good sitting around hotel lobbies."

He was talking about Lou (The Toe) Groza, the Browns' remarkable 37-year-old kicking specialist, who has come out of a one-year retirement for his 15th season in professional football.

The "banker"—actually he runs a profitable insurance business—already has used his golden toe for clutch field goals to provide fourth-period decisions in half of Cleveland's four triumphs.

Freed of the grueling offensive tackle duties he handled in prior years, Groza is kicking like a young colt. His accurate boots have registered three pointers on 11 of 13 attempts. The only misses were from 42 and 50 yards. He also has made good on 14 of 16 conversions.

Groza kicked three field goals and a trio of extra points in the Browns' 30-28 decision at Pittsburgh Sunday. The final field goal came with 2:49 left and sealed the verdict. A month ago Groza cracked a tie with 35 seconds on the clock by connecting on a 19-yarder for a 20-17 victory over St. Louis, this Sunday's opponent for Cleveland.

In other action Sunday, Dallas will be at New York, Chicago plays at Baltimore, San Francisco is at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia goes to Washington, Minnesota is at Green Bay and Los Angeles is host to Detroit.

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Schwall, a lanky right-handed pitcher, wasn't even on the Boston Red Sox roster at the start of spring training. But by the time the 1961 baseball season had ended, Don Schwall was a bona-fide major leaguer—a 15-game winner as a rookie.

"Mickey Mantle was the toughest batter I faced," Schwall said today, "but fortunately I had good results with Roger Maris. I pitch most of the batters low and away and therefore I don't give up too many homers."

Schwall, a 23-year-old Oklahoman, allowed just eight homers in 178 2-3 innings. Maris didn't hit any off him and Mantle had just one. Schwall's over-all won-loss record was 15-7 and he was 2-2 against the world champion Yankees. His ERA was 3.27.

Hoppman Top Iowa Gainer

Set School Record As Soph Last Year

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anyone in the professional ranks is looking for a triggerman for a shotgun offense, contact Dave Hoppman of Iowa State sometime after Jan. 1, 1963. This guy is a natural.

He is the tailback in Coach Clay Stapleton's single wing offense, which means he handles the ball on most offensive plays.

As a sophomore last year, the 6-foot-1, 178-pounder from Madison, Wis., lead the Big Eight in rushing with 844 yards, which was also an Iowa State record. However, in 1960 he had fullback Tom Watkins for company and the two made a dynamic pair.

With Watkins gone this year, Hoppman has had to fight off the charges of a pair of talented sophs, Ozzie Clay and Dave Hoover. Maybe this pair inspired him, for he has gained 750 yards in five games, 446 rushing and 304 passing as the Cyclones have won three of the five.

He scored both touchdowns in a 14-7 victory over Oklahoma State and gained 113 yards in a 21-15 victory over Oklahoma, during which Clay scored twice and Hoover once.

Now with Clay sidelined for the year with a knee injury and Hoover as his relief, Hoppman will be called on to do even more. And how much more can a person do if he is already ranked fourth nationally in individual total offense and fifth in rushing offense?

Kansas State will get the answer this weekend when it faces the Cyclones.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, is almost sure of not having the services of centers Mike Currie and Tom Jordan, and defensive specialist Rocky Ryan against Indiana in its Big Ten game this week.

Iowa's Hawkeyes, early season favorites for the Big Ten title, lost quarterback Wilburn Hollis for the season. Hollis broke a bone in his wrist in the Hawkeyes second game.

Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin indicated that he may alternate quarterbacks Ron Miller and John Fabry in Saturday's nationally televised game against Ohio State.

Allows Only 107.8 Yards Per Game

'Bama's Defense Best In College Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Alabama's stingiest defense is operating at a pace that has been matched only twice in the last 16 years, the NCAA Service Bureau said today.

The Crimson Tide has given up only 44.6 yards per game on the ground and 107.8 over-all, leading the nation's major colleges in both categories.

The NCAA said that only two teams in the past 16 years have presented equivalent credentials at mid-season. In 1959, Syracuse limited its first five opponents to 28 yards a game on the ground and 100.2 over-all. Twelve years earlier, Penn State allowed its first five opponents only 10.2 yards rushing and 69 over-all.

Other major college defense leaders this week are Nebraska and Pennsylvania, which share honors in pass defense. Arizona State with the top punting average (43.1 yards a kick), and Michigan State and Ohio State, the stingiest giving up points.

Michigan State and Ohio State each has allowed only 10 points in four games.

Both Nebraska and Penn have given up 43.0 passing yards a game, taking over the top spot vacated by Air Force.

No Head-To-Head Showdown Due

Ferguson, Saimes Vie For All-American Title

CHICAGO (AP)—A broadsword and a rapier, two superb Big Ten fullbacks—Ohio State's Bob Ferguson and Michigan State's George Saimes of Canton, Ohio—are dueling for All-America football laurels.

The Midwest All-America selection board for the Associated Press' 1961 honor team today had lavish praise for both the 217-pound Ferguson and the 186-pound Saimes.

Unfortunately, there is no possibility of a head-to-head showdown between these two key performers. Their Big Ten title-scenting clubs do not meet this season.

Ferguson, named to the AP's 1960 All-America team, has powered 368 yards and 4 touchdowns in 86 carries for a 4.28-yard per carry average. Saimes, some 30 pounds lighter than Ferguson, has slashed 318 yards on 47 carries in 4 games for 6 TD's and a 6.7 average.

Board Member Paul Horning of the Columbus Dispatch remarks admiringly that statistics should include for Ferguson a "number and yards enemy tacklers carried category."

"Once the heavy-legged Buckeye senior begins to roll," added Horning, "opposing linemen and defensive backs also begin to roll." Horning reports that Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes stresses that Ferguson also "is blocking his head off."

Suggested another board member, Jack Rosenberg of Chicago station WGN: "Ferguson is good enough to play pro ball right now. Even with defenses set for him, he runs over them."

However, the board concedes that junior Saimes, who Wednesday won Associated Press back of the week honors for turning the tide in Michigan State's 17-7 conquest of Notre Dame, also is a terrific fullback performer.

Among linemen cited was three exceptionally fine linebackers—guard Mike Ingram of Ohio State.

Mount Union Battles 2 Old Opponents

ALLIANCE—Mount Union College dips into the history books for its next two opponents—at Hiram this Saturday and home against Kenyon next Saturday.

The Raiders split a pair of games with Hiram in 1894 and lost their first intercollegiate game 18-0 to Kenyon in 1893. Mount has an edge on both Ohio Conference teams, 30-6-4 over Hiram and 17-8-1 over Kenyon.

History may be interesting, but Coach Duke Barrett is concerned with Mount's present 1-4 overall and 1-3 OC records following the 21-20 Homecoming loss to Denison.

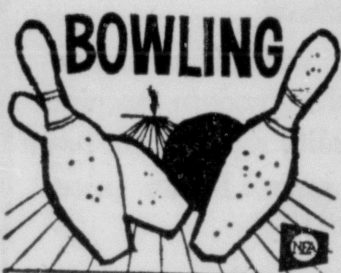

Barrett's problems include a weak passing attack that can't match the running threat of 5-5 Ralph Roberts and injuries.

Latest losses to the Raiders are end Jim Luteran (Youngstown Rayen), out for the season with a broken wrist, and halfback Bob Hutton (Salem), doubtful for the Hiram game because of a pulled cartilage in his knee.

All-Conference center Virg Stroh (Canton Lincoln) has been no problem, except to opponents, in anchoring both the offensive and defensive line.

Against Denison the 6-2 and 215-pound senior crashed through to block a punt, scooped up by Harold Noble (Carrollton) for a 12-yard touchdown dash.

Mount has beaten Hiram the last three times, including a 38-6 game last year. Hiram's last win was 13-7 in 1957.

Veteran Sports Columnist Dies

Ed McAuley Noted For Baseball Writing

CLEVELAND (AP) — A funeral mass will be said Saturday at Gesu Catholic Church for Edward J. (Ed) McAuley, veteran sports writer here.

McAuley, 58, died Wednesday in St. Vincent Charity Hospital of a brain hemorrhage. He had been a patient there for several weeks.

Burial will be in Sharon, Pa., near his birthplace.

McAuley wrote a sports column for the Cleveland News for more than 20 years until the paper ceased publication in January, 1960. Since then he had been sports editor and columnist for the suburban Heights Sun-Press and the Heights Sun-Messenger. His column was syndicated in many Northern Ohio weeklies and dailies.

A wide smile and a big cigar were his trademarks. His writings often ignored the statistics and play-by-play to reflect the human side of the game. Considered one of baseball's foremost authorities, McAuley covered the Cleveland Indians for the Cleveland News for 15 years and once was president of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Survivors include his wife, the former Genevieve Quinn; two daughters, Mrs. Ann Jeffries and Mrs. Mary Kay Fuffy; four brothers, the Rev. Robert J. McAuley, S.J.; Regis, baseball writer for the Cleveland Press; Logan, circulation manager of the Cleveland Plain Dealer; and Raymond, and a sister, Mrs. Ray Daull.

B-W Slips In Small College Football Poll

By The Associated Press

Pittsburg (Kan.) State's unbeaten-untied Gorillas yielded their first points of the season but retained their hold on first place today in The Associated Press' weekly small college football poll.

Fort Hays (Kan.) State drove 93 yards for a touchdown the first time it had the ball against Pittsburg. Their goal-line crossed for the first time, the Gorillas roared back for a 41-7 victory, their sixth of the season.

There were several changes in the makeup of the top ten. Two teams—Lamar Tech and Texas A & I were dropped and two added — Northwestern Louisiana (6-0) and Mississippi Southern (5-1).

Baldwin - Wallace of Ohio (5-0) dropped from second to third, a spot also given it by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) in its poll this week.

Wittenberg University of Springfield, Ohio, was in the second 10 of the AP's poll this week.

The top ten (points figured on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 from first through tenth places; first place votes in parentheses):

1. Pittsburg (Kan.) (4) 63
2. Northern Michigan 60
3. Baldwin-Wallace (2) 50
4. S.E. Louisiana 37
5. Whittier 29
6. Fresno State 21
7. Tie Hofstra 20
8. Tie, N.W. Louisiana (1) 20
9. West Chester (Pa.) 19
10. Mississippi Southern 15

Heads Pack With 988-Yards

Cross Regains Lead In Total Offense Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Gross has regained the No. 1 standing in the nation's major college total offense standings.

The NCAA Service Bureau said today that Gross' 286-yard effort in Detroit's losing cause against Navy last week was the best in individual effort of the season and rocketed the junior quarterback into a commanding position in the total offense race with 988 yards.

Gross led early this season, but after an open date fell behind James Earl Wright of Memphis. Gross' effort last week, coupled with an injury-enforced layoff for Wright, gave Gross a 201-yard lead.

Tied behind Gross and Wright are Alabama's Pat Trammell and Iowa State's Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann, each with 750 yards.

Pete Pedro of West Texas State leads the ball carriers and Chon Gallegos of San Jose State leads the passers, each for the fourth straight week. Bill Wright of Brigham Young leads the punters with a 43.08 average.

Pedro, who has carried for 646 yards on 66 tries for a 9.8 average, also leads in scoring with 84 points. Gallegos has completed 62 of 105 passes. Gross is second with 59 completion in 120 tries.

Rodriguez, Lema Lead Golf Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Juan Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., are tied at the halfway mark in the $19,500 Sahara Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

As the field got away today there were only 60 pros left. Rodriguez and Lema had 134s and Bob Shave Jr., Jerry Steelsmith and Billy Maxwell were tied for third with 135s.

Rodriguez had a 65 Wednesday and 69 the day before, while Lema had two 67s.

Big 10 Could Miss Out On Rose Bowl Bid

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The road to the 1962 Pasadena Rose Bowl is wide open.

That goes for any of the five schools in the Athletic Association of Western Universities, one of which will be the host at the annual New Year's Day classic.

And the door is open to any school in the nation which might be interested and is deemed Rose Bowl quality.

The AAWU, or so-called Big Five, successor to the late Pacific Coast Conference, in effect owns the post-season game.

The AAWU championship race at this stage is strictly a toss-up. AAWU executive director Tom Hamilton recently reiterated that the 1962 game and the invited team will be handled in the same manner as a year ago.

There is no formal or informal agreement with the Big Ten. Minnesota was invited to the last Pasadena engagement simply because the Big Five and their championship team, the Washington Huskies, felt the Golden Gophers would provide a good contest.

As matters stand in the Big Ten, one of its schools can accept a Rose Bowl invitation. But it must be invited.

The same open-door policy applies around the country.

Waterfowl Hunting Season Opened With Big Bang

If you participated in the opening of Ohio's waterfowl hunting season last Friday and Saturday, you bagged six-tenths of a bird! Average-wise, that is.

The Division of Wildlife, reporting on a survey of the first two days, says the hunting was good. Division personnel checked 2,922 hunters in the field and found they had killed 1,711 ducks, 68 geese and 196 coots. And that figured to 60 takes for each 100 hunters.

The Magee Marsh Wildlife Area produced topnotch results. 160 ducks taken by each 100 hunters. This helped Wildlife District 1, which includes most of the Lake Erie marshes, to a total of 497 ducks shot by 805 nimrods.

Elsewhere, the survey shows these figures:

District 2, northwestern Ohio, 407 hunters bagged 234 ducks and most of the geese taken—the latter reflecting the fact that Grand Lake St. Marys is site of the division's captive goose flock.

District 3, northeast, 786 hunters bagged 558 ducks; District 4, southeast, 278 hunters took 214 ducks; District 5, central, 168 hunters bagged 118 ducks, and District 6, southwest, 478 hunters got 354 ducks.

The Wildlife Division says the results were gratifying in view of nationwide predictions that the duck population was low.

Some 14 species were reported taken, led by mallards 34 per cent of the total kill and wood ducks 29 per cent.

Early indications were that this year's reduced bag limit of two ducks per day did not adversely affect the average take per man.

The 30-day duck season extends through Nov. 18. The 60-day goose season runs through Dec. 18.

Try Pork Chops, Apple Casserole

While Jack Frost has a firm grip on the outdoors, you'll have more time and incentive to try out those dishes you've been trying to "try out" for so long.

Fine starters are Pork Chops 'n' Apple Casserole and Crown Roast of Pork with Molasses-Apple Stuffing. These dishes are deliciously and subtly flavored with the tart-sweet tang of real New Orleans molasses for a new savory treat. Both are sure to have many menu return engagements. Pork Chop 'n' Apple Casserole: 4 lean loin pork chops, trimmed partially if fat is excessive salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, 4 cups iced tart cooking apples, 1/4 cups seedless raisins, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/4 cup Orleans molasses, 1/4 cup water.

METHOD: Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Sprinkle pork chops with salt; saute in shortening until brown. Mix together apples, raisins and lemon rind; place in 2 quart greased baking dish. Combine molasses and water; pour over apple mixture. Top with browned pork chops.

Cover; bake for 1 hour. Remove cover and bake 1/2 hour more. Yield: 4 servings.

Corn sticks and zippy, individually molded salads are ideal accompaniments with this casserole

Salmon Mold Is a Treat

GAYNOR MADDOX

Canned salmon mold, cooked on top of stove in double boiler, is a delicious family treat. It is packed with complete protein, the same as in meat, poultry, fish and eggs and many, many vitamins and minerals. Easy to digest, too.

Small potatoes mixed with cucumber balls flavored with chopped dill go perfectly with this dish. Cook the cucumber balls in salted water for 10 minutes, then drain and mix with the potatoes. Sprinkle with chopped dill.

Family Salmon Mold (Serves 4 to 6)
1-3 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup finely chopped onions, 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper, 1 cup fresh bread crumbs, 3 eggs, lightly beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon tabasco, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 can (1-pound) salmon, drained.

In top of double boiler, over direct heat, melt butter or margarine. Add onions and green pepper and saute for 5 minutes. Stir in crumbs. Remove from heat and beat in eggs, salt, lemon juice, tabasco, parsley and pepper. Stir in salmon. Cover saucepan with a double piece of waxed paper, cover with lid of saucepan, and place over bottom part of double boiler containing simmering water.

Cook for 1 1/2 hours, or until center is firm. Loosen edge of salmon with a spatula and unmold onto serving plate. Garnish with parsley and lemon wedges.

Crown Roast of Pork With Molasses-Apple Stuffing

1/4 cup chopped onions, 2 cups sliced tart cooking apples, 1/4 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/4 cup molasses, 1/4 cup hot water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon crumbled leaf sage, 1 quart toasted bread cubes, 7 lb. crown roast of pork.

METHOD: Saute onions, apples and celery in butter for 5 minutes. Mix molasses, water, lemon juice, rind and seasoning. In large bowl, combine bread cubes and sauteed ingredients; toss together lightly.

Fill roast with stuffing, heap ing it up in the center (do not pack tightly.) Bake, uncovered, in shallow baking pan in moderate oven (350-degrees F.) for 3 1/2 hours (or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F.)

Before serving, fasten paper frills to tip of each rib, or cover tips with small pieces of aluminum foil. Yield: 8 generous servings.

Zippy Salad

1 package lemon gelatin, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1/2 cup vinegar, 3 tablespoons prepared horseradish, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped cabbage.

METHOD: Dissolve gelatin in water. Chill. When almost firm, add remaining ingredients and stir. Chill in individual molds and serve as garnish with meat.

McCULLOCH'S

FALL AND SPORTS-WEAR — Sportswear and Fall — they just go together — right for each other.

IT'S A TIME FOR heady, rich colors, a time for wools and knits. It's a time for football and bulky sweaters; walks in the woods and tweed skirts; fast decision trips and good knits.

IT'S A TIME for beautifully casual but never casually careless clothes.

OUR STORE'S SPORTS-WEAR Department is taking on some of the magic of the harvest time produce market both in its luscious colors and in its quantity.

THERE ARE ROWS and rows of wonderful wool skirts in new tweedy plaids, stripes, tartans, crisp checks and solids; piles of bright sweaters, bulky or very, very fine in texture;
co-ordinated knits that are so expensive looking but not at an expensive price.

COLORS ARE MAGNIFI-CENT. Blues as clear as a gem — it's a baby blue grown up; oranges that simply glow; the richness of the ripened wine shades like magenta; true and splendid reds; the most beautiful green in years and a whole new family of browns from chocolate to amber to mushroom.

THE FORECAST for fall in fashion — shapes are shapelier — the softness of pleats, the princess flair, the lowered torso-look,
sometimes belted, sometimes merely stitched.
Necklines too are in great variety — collarless cardigans, scarf necklines, built up rings, cowls, turtles.

SPORTS-WEAR is no longer just a sweater and skirt for school or a quick buy for a busy housewife—it's a whole world of good fashion, carefully figured out.

IT'S A LOOK of chic gotogethers because you planned it that way. Don't buy separates separately and plan to switch them around.
Buy a look, already put together, then look for switches (sweaters to wear at home with slacks you already have).

GONE, FOR INSTANCE is the hidden little white tuck-in blouse that only showed a tiny bit and was only worn in case the room was too warm. Instead, open jackets display over-blouses keyed in color, fabric and neckline—special enough to wear with many things. A real part of the costume but capable of a solo too.

YES, WE FEEL proud of our Sportswear Department and the black rooster above it is mighty proud too—he seems to be saluting this hearty, wonderful season and all the glorious things we have for you to wear.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Bouquets and Brickbats

From a husband and wife who "have been working with the local mental health clinic for 10 years." Without editing or correction, this is what they write:
"We would like to take issue with you with regard to your recent article on Children's Allergies. . . . Too often these allergies etc. and are never explored on a psychosomatic basis. You will find an ever increasing number of people dealing with children who feel these children are almost without exception rejected by the mother, mother substitute and, many times, the father also.

"With parents made aware the child very often gets well after a session of therapy at which time the child is allowed to talk out his hostilities, express them through play materials and given strength to compete in his environment."

I hope this doesn't arouse the "hostilities" of the allergists. Or cause them to shut up shop and refer their practices to the "psy-chomaticists."

From a "professional in the field of beauty culture for the past 22 years":

"You seem to dislike the beautician and blame her for all the falling hair, bad scalp conditions or anything that is wrong with the hair or the outer-top of the head

"I feel that I, and anyone in my profession, can say the doctor is wrong and is not truthfully answering the questions asked of him. . . .

"Any doctor knows the hair has to be nourished by the blood to be healthy and your blood is within the body and can reach your hair strand only by way of the hair follicle. The blood will feed or starve your hair and it lives or dies or falls out from a condition within the body

"Old age and falling hair, or loss of hair, go together, it is the natural way of nature the same as the leaves falling from the trees in the fall. . . .

"The chemicals used in permanent waving and hair coloring today are being tested constantly and have been improved 100 per cent in the past few years

The beautician today knows her product. There is no room for the beautician who guesses any more than for the old quack who lost many a life."
DEAR LADY, this "old quack" never blamed all disorders of the hair and scalp on permanents, hair dyes, etc. He merely called attention to the increasing incidence of falling hair and even baldness in women who use these products whether on their own or in beauty parlors.
Now, I am neither for nor against beauticians. My interest is in the plight of young women who, despite excellent general health, find themselves without an abundant supply of the female's "crowning glory."

As a matter of fact, I am delighted with your recognition of the important role of the blood in the nourishment and maintenance of the hair follicle.

But won't your expression of this importance make it difficult for you to use or recommend hair tonics? At least until you can rub something on the tree to prevent leaves from tumbling down in the fall?
